

Frente

Verso

The image shows a diagram of a book's verso page. It features a large, inverted V-shape formed by two red lines and a green line. The red lines form the outer boundary, while the green line forms an inner boundary. At the top corners of the V, there are two small red circles, likely representing binding holes. The word "Verso" is centered in the middle of the V-shape in a bold, black font.